Dear Telex Team,

Whether you are a Fortune 500 or a "friendly 5 person" small business, your investment in marketing, and ultimately the result, is critical. Our investment with you over the past three years has garnered significant results. You have broadened our exposure in Northwest Ohio and Southeast Michigan.

Judging by the responses we get to our ads, there are many business owners and managers who read your publication. The TBJ speaks to the types of people with whom we work, those who already have successful businesses and value a publication that makes them aware of new business opportunities in their market.

We have found the TBJ to be a good source of information on new opportunities.

Your team has taken a sincere interest in our marketing efforts and has acted as a partner. In my years as President of Northwest Ohio based businesses leading sales and marketing teams, I have to admit it is a true rarity to find a publication willing to take on this role. Thanks for being a business partner with us.

Sincerely,

Eric S. Kurjan
President, Six Disciplines Leadership Center
